25 SEASON

RENEW TODAY

WE ARE THRILLED TO ANNOUNCE THE NEW 2024/25 SEASON.

Dear Friends,

Miami City Ballet's 39th season is, in some ways, the start of our 40th anniversary celebration. As stewards of this incredible art form, we maintain our commitment to our dancers, the heart and soul of our company, as well as to you, our audiences, by curating an ambitious season of ballet. This season offers a diverse range of choreographers and composers, and emphasizes our dedication to showcasing contemporary choreographic voices.

This season, we bring you a distinct mix, including three full-length ballets: A Midsummer Night's Dream, George Balanchine's The Nutcracker®, and the World Premiere of Carmen. We shine a spotlight on two female choreographers who are exciting the dance world with their work, Pam Tanowitz and Annabelle Lopez Ochoa. Two company premieres enter our repertory: Chaconne by José Limón, and Pictures at an Exhibition by Alexei Ratmansky.

When you subscribe to the Miami City Ballet, you are not only investing in an amazing artistic experience, but so much more. You are investing in a company of over 50 full-time dancers, the Miami City Ballet Orchestra, pre-professional and children's training programs, and hundreds of local professionals and tradespeople here in South Florida. You are investing in our vibrant community.

With Love,

Lourdes Lopez

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

The season opens with an enchanting tale of love that epitomizes what Miami City Ballet does best: infusing the timeless work of George Balanchine with a distinct Miami flair.

Premiered as part of the company's 30th anniversary, this inventive reimaging of Balanchine's *A Midsummer Night's Dream—his first original full-length story ballet created in America—transports the mystical woodland lovers of Shakespeare's comedic masterpiece to the spellbinding underwater world of the Florida coast. With Michele Oka Doner's transformative costumes and sets, the kingdom of magical fairies becomes a floating motif of coral and seagrass populated by manatees, seahorses, and more underwater life, evoking the heart of South Florida's treasured marine ecosystems.

Mendelssohn's mesmerizing score sets the stage for mischief, merriment, and mismatched romances, embodied in equal measures of whimsy and dazzling prowess by a breathtaking company of dancers. Take a dip into the familiar story of feuding Titania and Oberon, a quartet of hapless romantics, and the fiendish Puck, retold in the setting of the port of Miami.

WINTER MIX

Two works from Balanchine combine with a world premiere from a distinctly 21st century choreographic voice for a winter of sweeping dance.

We continue our dedication as the preeminent interpreter of the Balanchine repertory by staging two of the legendary choreographer's works in one bill. Taking his own famous quote "Ballet is woman" to heart, Balanchine's *Walpurgisnacht Ballet, originally created for the opera Faust, sees two dozen vibrant women storm the stage in full display of their virtuosity. On the 20th anniversary of adding Balanchine's La Valse to the company repertoire, more than 30 dancers again take on the romance and dark mystery of a disintegrating waltz set to a haunting Maurice Ravel score.

The boundary-pushing Pam Tanowitz completes the trio of pieces with a world premiere work. Her signature intentional unpredictability, whimsical complexity, and natural drama draws from the rules of master creators while subtly redefining the tradition of dance.

SPRING MIX

The spring sees the duality of dance take center stage—raucous and robust, raw and wild to solemn and soulful, strict and structured—in two company premieres and a Jerome Robbins classic.

Robbins energizes the season's bill with a postmodern and classical mashup. Glass Pieces drives ever forward in the electrifying rhythm of metropolitan life while navigating the shifting patterns of the intoxicating Philip Glass score. The enduring legacy of José Limón and his native Mexico are never seen in all their glory more so than in Chaconne, the remarkable solo originally danced by its creator. Set to an emotion-laden J.S. Bach work for violin, Limón captures the power of control and the freedom of expression in equal measure.

The company premiere of Alexei Ratmansky's Pictures at an Exhibition completes the triple bill, with 10 dancers exploring the full range of motion and emotion. Danced to Modest Mussorgsky's famed eponymous score in front of Wassily Kandinsky's Color Study Squares with Concentric Circles by artists adorned in designer duds by Adeline Andre, this abstract ballet is the essence of a feast for the senses.

World Premiere of
CARMEN (2024)

The world premiere work from an in-demand choreographer, based on and using music from Rodin Shchedrin's Carmen Suite with a decidedly Latin twist.

Colombian-Belgian dance maker Annabelle Lopez Ochoa draws from every facet of her heritage and training for the debut of her latest evening-length work, Carmen. Having danced for over a decade in European companies, created pieces for more than 70 dance companies, and found stunning success with nine narrative ballets, Ochoa is primed to reinterpret the classic opéra comique for a modern Miami dance audience.

Rodin Shchedrin's colorful score, based on Bizet's opera Carmen, receives a fresh update thanks to the addition of newly commissioned music from Colombian-born composer Juan Pablo Acosta, bringing Latin flair to one of the most popular operas ever written.

A story bursting with love, seduction, jealousy, and tragedy, revolving around the power of its fiery namesake heroine, has been seen around the world in nearly every medium of the performing arts for a century and a half. Ochoa imbues the enduring piece with sensuality and spirit as only she can, delivering the heat of southern Spain to today's South Florida audiences.
